

* IHU Econ Students' Success Stories ****

«My name is Ioanna Toupountzi and I have completed the postgraduate program in Financial Management, at the Department of Economic Sciences of the International Hellenic University (Serres Campus). I chose the Postgraduate Program in Financial Management, due to its excellent reputation, but also because, as a native of Serres, I wanted to support the department of my city.

The subject was completely relevant to my studies and corresponded to my professional ambitions. Through the postgraduate program, I developed essential skills in financial analysis, data processing and the use of statistical tools. Particularly important to me was the professor and Head of the Department of Economic Sciences, Prof. Polychronidou, supervisor of my thesis, who inspired me to love data analysis.

The postgraduate studies were a key step for my professional rehabilitation. Today I work in Serres, in the financial department of a growing industrial and commercial company operating in the primary sector, putting into practice the knowledge I acquired. To anyone thinking of choosing the above study program, I would say to dare. It is a substantial investment in knowledge, opportunities and human collaborations».

ECON
Alumni

